To Whom It May Concern:

This is to recommend the digital imaging services provided by Digital One Concepts. After thinking about it for many years, I finally resolved to move closer to a paperless office in 2002. I looked into purchasing my own equipment and hiring a person part-time. Then an attorney friend recommended the turnkey services of this company. When I took into account the cost and headache of doing it myself, their charges seemed very reasonable. I started out with a few test boxes and later gave them most of my filing cabinets. I found their service to be reliable and accurate. I was especially impressed with the flexibility that James showed when there was some extra work needed to convert my files to the PaperPort format that I had been using. He went that extra step without charging me more.

If anyone is considering taking this step, I would recommend that you talk it over with James before finalizing your decision.

Sincerely,

Judson King
